Tuberculosis Tests Given 693 In County

612 Pupils, 81 Adults Given Fluid By 4 Doctors

First phase of El Dorado County's tuberculosis test for high school pupils and pupils of the seventh and eighth grades was completed Monday at the high school when 693 individuals received tuberculin injections.

These included 612 pupils and 81 adults.

Wednesday they will pass through the second phase of the test, receiving a slightly stronger injection.

The tests are being conducted under the auspices of the El Dorado County Tuberculosis Association in co-operation with the California Tuberculosis Association and materials are paid for from funds derived from the sale of Christmas seals in the county.

Services of County Physician A. A. McKinnon, Dr. Jean Babcock, Dr. C. V. Sorocco and Dr. D. W. Babcock, are contributed by them without charge. In addition, County School Nurse Helen Byrnes, Placerville grammar school nurse Irene Larson and officers of the county tuberculosis association are in attendance.

The summary of those who received the first phase of the test includes 344 high school pupils, 20 members of the faculty and office staff, bus drivers and two janitors, all from the high school; Eighty-eight pupils, 13 faculty members.

Hearing Held Monday Night Before Council

Following a public hearing Monday night on the matter of the proposed adoption of an ordinance compelling householders to pay 50 cents per month for garbage collection service to be furnished by the city, the matter was laid over until the April meeting of the council.

The proposition was opposed by some ten individuals who visited the meeting and expressed their opposition. Henry Toedt was the sole spokesman in behalf of the plan.

The council amended a proposed resolution which will, when passed, replace certain sections of the city license ordinance which have been repealed.

RADIO MECHANIC JOINS STAFF AT CARR'S STATION

Ward Hoover, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. R. Hoover of El Dorado, and who has been connected with the Wm. Rumsey firm in Placerville as chief radio technician for the past several months, will from this week on be located at Carr's Battery and Electrical Service, where Mr. Carr is opening a complete new radio repair shop.

The radio service department is an addition to Carr's regular line of complete service, including motor repairing, battery sales, ignition service, radiator flushing and repairing, scientific motor trouble shooting and official head light adjusting with latest type equipment.

MILL USED 110 YEARS

MELBOURNE, Ark. (AP)—A 110-year-old coffee mill and a 100-year-old walnut chest are still in use at the home of Joseph Jones here. The chest has two partitions and originally was used for brown and white sugar.

NEW STRIKE—Here are employees in one of the Hudson Motor Car plants in Detroit who began a new sit-down strike when a United Automobile Workers demand for exclusive collective bargaining privileges was refused by company officials. About 10,000 workmen were affected by the move in Hudson plants. Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins said she thought the Chrysler and Hudson strikes would be settled amicably.

COUNTY PICNIC TO BE MAY 1st

Chamber Of Commerce Affirms Date At March Meeting

El Dorado County's annual "May Day" picnic will be held on May Day this year—the weather being favorable.

This is according to action taken Monday night at the regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce at which the chamber's sports and recreation committees, Dr. Wm. B. Schneider and Lloyd Cannon, were named in charge of the event.

The program generally will follow the outline of the event for other years except that this year the juvenile races will be displayed by a track and field meet for grammar school boys of the entire county.

This will consist of races, jumping and other events normally associated with a track and field meet, and ribbons and medals will be awarded. The meet will be staged under the supervision of John H. Palmer, principal of Placerville grammar school.

Not the least of the stunts of the day will be the May Pole dance, and the selection of the county's entry in the contest to name California's Out-County.

SAN CARLO CAST PLEASES THROG IN 2 OFFERINGS

The San Carlo Opera Company paid its annual visit to Northern California Monday night at the Sacramento Memorial auditorium, treating the patrons to a "double bill" for the one-night engagement.

Probably more than 3,000 saw and heard the company's presentation of "Cavalleria Rusticana" followed by "Pagliacci." It was an appreciative crowd.

We chalked down as the high spot of the evening—we whose complete musical accomplishment is to play the bass for "chop sticks"—Cario's sorrowful solo with which Leoncavallo closed his first act. The part was assigned to Aroldo Lindi, whose voice we put down as the best of the evening.

Tonio (Mostyn Thomas) was heard in the prologue.

At Sacramento for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Collins of Georgetown, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Lewis and son, Albert; Mrs. Charles Ball, Miss Laura Ball, Miss Maxine Miller, Mrs. L. A. Reeg, Miss Mabel Jean Barnhouse, Mr. and Mrs. Mance H. Vaught, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Volz, Joseph Norden, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Barker, William J. Kervin and V. E. Allen.

This will be followed by the entertainment, in the main hall, beginning at 8:15 o'clock, and following the concert there will be dancing to round out the evening to the music of Red's Rhythm Rascals.

There will be a midnight supper and at the start of this intermission the door prizes will be awarded.

E. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Gibson, William Stultz, Maude Mychreest; with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hardy and Art Masten as musicians and Mrs. E. T. John O'Garra and C. W. Pearson represented the contestants. Judge Lemmon ruled from the bench upholding the validity of the will and deciding against the contestants.

Mrs. W. Teitworth was in town on Tuesday enroute to Grizzly Flat from San Francisco, where she had been visiting since mid-December.

AMELIA READY FOR TAKE-OFF

Hopes To Start Today Or Wednesday For Honolulu

OAKLAND (AP)—Amelia Earhart Putnam today inspected the rain-soaked runways of Oakland Airport and said she may take off on her round-the-world flight late today if she finds the runways firm enough for her heavily-laden plane.

A storm over the Pacific Ocean was breaking up, the United States Weather Bureau reported, and clear skies were forecast tonight.

"If the weather tomorrow is as good as it is today, I may delay the flight tomorrow," Miss Earhart said. "But if I find the airport runways here are in good condition after two days of rain, I may take-off late this afternoon."

Several soft spots in the Oakland runway were repaired.

CONFESSION IN FORGERY GIVEN

Wetmore Scheduled To Have Preliminary On Wednesday

James Wetmore, lodged in the county jail over the week-end following his arrest at Marysville on two-year-old charges of forgery, was reported Tuesday morning by Sheriff George Smith and District Attorney Henry S. Lyon to have made a full confession.

Wetmore was taken before Justice of the Peace T. F. Lewis and his preliminary hearing on the charge was set for Wednesday morning.

He is alleged to have forged the name of an employee of the lumbering firm of Bradbury and Tuman to a pay-roll check and had been sought by Sheriff Smith for several months.

The check in question was cashed at the Workingman's Store.

Ultimate Development Of Former E. Y. Gray Resort Is Yet To Be Determined

Transaction Pending For Several Months Is Made Public In Announcement From Forest Offices

The federal government through the forest service has purchased the holdings of Euell Y. Gray at the south end of Echo Lake for a consideration approximating $25,000.

The area embraces 115.52 acres and an initial payment of $12,793.86, representing about 50 per cent of the purchase price, has been made.

This is according to an announcement Tuesday by Eldorado Forest officers.

The transaction had been pending for several months.

Transfer of the title was approved by the government about two weeks ago.

Under the terms of the purchase agreement, Mr. Gray accepted timber sale stumpage in exchange for the area and the funds from the sale of the timber concerned were immediately impounded by the government in a special fund.

With approval given the title, an initial payment from the timber sales fund was authorized. Another payment will be made during the present year and it is expected that the final (Continued on Page 3)

"Prosperity" Turns Corner

Income Tax Total Put Down As Best In 13 Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—Treasury officials canvassed the greatest deluge of income tax returns since 1924 today, confident that they would total $840,000,000, almost double the income tax collections of the first quarter of 1936 and approximately $150,000,000 more than the collections of the "prosperity" first quarter of 1929.

Latest reports from all parts of the country to Internal Revenue Commissioner Guy Helvering indicated that approximately 6,500,000 returns, 500,000 more than anticipated had been filed up to last midnight's deadline.

More than half the returns were filed yesterday. Virtually all corporate returns were made on the final day to avoid loss of interest on funds set aside for tax purposes.

Generally improved business, higher wages, increased employment and innovations in the tax law were held responsible for the expected increase in revenue.

5,006 REFUSED OPERATOR CARDS IN YEAR OF 1936

SACRAMENTO—Increases of nearly 25 per cent in the number of applicants for operators or chauffeurs licenses in 1936, as compared with the previous year, are shown in his annual report today by Paul Mason, chief of the division.

Applications received by the division last year totalled 1,095,197, of which 1,033,797 were issued, as compared with 878,244 received and 810,114 issued in 1935, Mason said.

Persons who failed the tests of the division were given as 44,715, while 5,006 were definitely refused licenses.

Licenses of 2,186 persons were revoked or canceled, an increase of 1,123 or 106 per cent, and 13,742 licenses were suspended, an increase of 10,554 or 331 per cent over the 1935 total.

During the year, 1,939 had their licenses restored after suspension under criminal section and 843 under civil sections. The division also handled changes of address for 165,585 persons.

The Grim Sweeper

Propaganda In Schools

The California Joint Immigration Committee is taking steps to halt permanently the invasion of Japanese propaganda in the schools of this state.

In the conflict which has been conducted for several years, the Joint Immigration Committee has won important skirmishes. Now it proposes that the state law be amended to permit criticism by informed persons of textbooks before they are listed in schools.

Groups which lean backward in their efforts to give the Japanese the better of disputes on American immigration law, have sponsored books for use in California and Hawaiian schools which unfairly present the American attitude toward Japan.

Japan's definite purpose is to have America repeal its exclusion law against Asiatics. Japan and pro-Japanese Americans want the quota law applied to Japanese immigrants.

An insidious campaign has been under way to influence the minds of American boys and girls, by invading the schools with books unfair to the American attitude toward Japan.

Ideas inculcated in the school children of today become the public sentiment tomorrow. When those ideas are false, the future public sentiment will be false.

In several cases the watchful Joint Immigration Committee has detected school books containing gross misinformation on American-Japanese relations.

To permit pro-Japanese propaganda to invade the schools is to poison the well of future thought.

The plan of the California Joint Immigration Committee to have the law provide that all school books dealing with international relations shall be fair to real American policy is an essential, patriotic plan.—The Examiner.

PARADE OF SPORTS

By HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Writer)

NEW YORK (UP)—It's been 10 days since I quit the camp of the St. Louis Cardinals in Daytona Beach and began my holdout for more money.

As all the world knows they offered me $182.50 and 730 free bus rides a year, and I am holding out for $730 and 182½ rides. All I want to do is switch the rides and the money, and it seems fair enough to me because the way I figure it won't cost the Cards anything.

So far I haven't heard a word from Manager Frankie Frisch or owner Sam Breadon since I left to come up here and be swallowed up in the maw of the great city, as the saying goes. I'm not worried about not hearing, you understand, but I know they haven't tried to reach me because I have been calling the postoffice and the telegraph companies five and six times a day, just as a sort of check. My postman, who is a great baseball fan and almost sick at the thought of me getting my big chance, has been helping me, too. Every day after he gets through with his route he goes back to the postoffice and roots through the left over mail to be sure a postcard, or something like that, for me hasn't been overlooked.

As I say, I'm not worried because I know Frisch and Breadon are just bluffing. I know too that some of the St. Louis fans are making it pretty hot for them, because a fellow down in Daytona has sent me some letters Frisch has received from the fans. I'll let you read a few.

"Ten days and not a word about Rookie McLeMORE! Is he on the team? Is he playing under the name of Terry Moore? We fans demand to know. Forget about the glass-armed Dizzy Dean and sign McLeMORE." This one was signed "St. Louis woman with a diamond ring."

Another one even hotter, and signed "St. Louis man who is led around by the apron strings," reads:

"You chiselers, you! You bums! Another Hans Wagner comes along and just because he can't field or hit, you won't meet his demands. You oughta give that club of yours back to the Indians—if Slapnicka would have it!"

Still another one, signed by Lord and Taylor, starts out:

"For the past seven months we have been dunning you for the bill you ran up three years . . ."

No, that's wrong. That's one I got. Just forget it.

I don't think it will be long before Frisch and Breadon yield to this tremendous outside pressure and agree to my terms. I see by the dispatches that the Cards lost a game to the Giants in Havana Sunday so I guess they'll soon start burning up the wires beseeching me to come and bolster the team. That defeat will bring them to their senses if anything will, because when a team starts getting beaten by the Giants it's in a bad way, as all who bet on the Giants in the last world series know. It's a sure sign of decay when the Giants lick you at anything. The Giants have been beaten almost every day by a bunch of cigar makers who took the field all tired out from rolling nickle cigars to sell for 15 cents.

And the game was lost by an error by the shortstop, which is the position I tried for. The ball he missed never would have gotten past me. It couldn't because the shoes Frisch and Breadon gave men to wear were so big that when I stood at shortstop my toes itched at second and third bases. I was different from the other shortstops in the training camp. They all said the hardest ball to get was one hit right at you. That kind was the easiest for me, because all I did was to squat, shut my eyes, and wait. Then I'd get the ball on the first bounce—the first bounce off me, I mean.

In the game Sunday the Cardinals didn't get but one hit off Hubbell. I heard the boys talking about Hubbell at camp and they said he had too much stuff. That's where I had 'em again, because I shut my eyes when I swing and that makes all pitchers the same. Hubbell wouldn't be any different than a sand-lotter to me, and I imagine I'd hit him freely.

I reckon I'll get a wire tomorrow, at the latest.

A Surprise Attack

By Harry F. O'Niell

Remove Those Blemishes That Are So Ugly at 15

By JACQUELINE HUNT

WHAT is a girl to do if she has reached that thrilling age of fifteen, or so, and has just met the most wonderful boy in the world—only to have life seem lighted by the appearance of those hateful little blemishes that have a way of appearing about this time!

Few girls (or boys either) are lucky enough to escape them altogether, for this is a time when glands are extremely active and subject to upsets. But the homely little spots will not be so serious or stay so long if you eat sensibly and keep your skin thoroughly clean.

No matter how healthy your appetite, you must swear off candy, ice cream sodas, pastries, gravies and too much white bread. Fill up on raw fresh fruit, cooked vegetables, salads, one or two servings of lean broiled or roast meat and simple dairy dishes. Drink as much milk, fruit juice and water as you possibly can.

Once the bumps are actually there, resist the temptation to pick and squeeze at them. Wash gently with soap and water—gently, because your skin is already sensitive and irritated. Rinse carefully. Then dip tiny padlets of cotton into hot water or a hot boric acid solution and press it over the pimple until the skin is very moist and soft.

Touch the spot with a sterilized needle, then gently manipulate the skin on both sides until the secretion has been worked out. Remove with cotton and apply a dab of carbonized ointment or a special acne lotion for healing.

Be scrupulously clean in other things, too. Bathe daily, scrubbing vigorously with a bath brush and soapsuds and, if possible, finish by rinsing under a cool shower. And make it a rule to keep your hands clean. This takes a lot of scrubbing on the part of active girls and boys, but it will help prevent spreading germs that are directly responsible for acne.

If you have reached the make-up stage, be sure to use fresh cotton pads for applying your powder and discard them after each use. Soiled powder puffs are germ carriers. It is safest to avoid them altogether—at least until the acne clears up. When you do use them, be sure to have two or three and to wash them several times each week.

What about make-up? I believe that any girl who is bright enough to be in high school is bright enough to learn how to use cosmetics. But not a lot of rouge and lipstick and a thick caking of powder or a beading of mascara! The smart thing now is to have a clean-looking, natural sort of beauty.

Use powder of a fine-textured variety that matches your skin tones in coloring, but do try to get along without rouge and lipstick. When you use rouge you are killing all the lovely, youthful color in your cheeks.

PROPOSED UNION OF FARM LABOR OF VITAL CONCERN

By RALPH H. TAYLOR

Executive Secretary, Agricultural Council of California

Announcement is made that final plans for organization of the Agricultural Workers' Union of California, a proposed state-wide union of farm labor, will be submitted to the executive council of the California State Federation of Labor at Sacramento on March 21.

Foredoomed to failure, if the outcome of previous efforts to organize farm labor may be accepted as a criterion, the movement is nonetheless of vital concern to California agriculture, for it is almost certain to foment labor disturbances during the coming harvest season.

And California farmers, after the bitter battle with depression, are in urgent need of a period of undisturbed production, and profitable marketing of their crops, if agriculture is to win back a fair measure of solvency.

The history of previous attempts to unionize farm workers is an unhappy record of "direct action," unremitting class hatreds, fostered by unprincipled agitators; wage losses and bitter disappointment for the workers and terrific crop losses for the farmer. Invariably, Communists and radicals have wrested control of the unions from bona fide labor organizations, with disastrous results for everyone concerned. And invariably, the unions have finally collapsed, both in California and throughout the nation.

The handiwork of Communist organizers shows up even in the preliminary stages of the present movement, as evidenced by the resolutions adopted at the recent two-day conference, held in San Francisco to map plans for the farm union program.

The resolutions, for example—in- stead of considering ways and means of bettering conditions or income for either farm labor or the farmer—were as follows:

- 1.—Fraternal greetings to Mooney and Billings, the San Francisco Preparedness Day bombers.
- 2.—Expressions of sympathy to the recently-convicted East Bay ship murderers.
- 3.—Greetings and sympathy to the Modesto dynamite prisoners.
- 4.—Recommendation that the state criminal syndicalism act be repealed.
- 5.—Recommendation that all anti-picketing ordinances be repealed and that state police be prohibited from keeping order during labor disputes.

If the farm labor movement is to be ushered in by resolutions extending "fraternal greetings" to convicted dynamiters and murderers, there can be little doubt as to the sponsorship of the movement. The hand of the Communist and revolutionary, bent on stirring up class warfare as a preliminary move toward the overthrow of American government, is all too evident. To both farm worker and farmer, it is a forbidding prospect!

Farmers, who are also workers—and who work more hours, in most instances, than any of the members of organized labor—have a friendly interest in the welfare of all workers, born of their own experience. They likewise appreciate that as wages and standards of living improve for workers, the demand for farm produce will improve, helping the farmer to get on firmer ground. And California farmers, for years past, have consistently paid the highest farm wages in the United States. When wages have been low, the farmer's income, in most instances, was just as low—and often lower!

California, if it is to regain any measure of security and prosperity, needs to go to work, rather than to go in strike. It needs rationalism, rather than radicalism. It is to be hoped that the responsible leaders in organized labor will do their utmost to re-win control of their own organization and weed out the radicals who are apparently bent on exploiting California farm workers for their own selfish ends.

WOMAN EDITOR PUTS "PEP" IN VOTE CAMPAIGN

PITTSBURGH, Kan. (UP)—Mrs. E. Carpenter decided the campaign for city offices in the March primary election was "as dull as dishwater" so she filed today as a candidate for commissioner of finance to "pep things up."

"I'll get my money's worth of fun out of the campaign," she explained. "that is unless I'm elected. In that event I'll get mostly grief, I suppose."

It is the first time a woman has been a candidate for city office in Pittsburgh. Mrs. Carpenter is editor, owner and "staff" of a semi-monthly newspaper.

payment will be made in 1938.
Development of the site is not decided upon.

Forest officials said it is "too early to say anything about that" and refused to comment at the suggestion that the site might become a trading post for the Echo Lake district and the primitive area beyond the Echo Lakes in Desolation Valley.

It was indicated, however, that the forest service will develop a program which it deems best suited to recreational interests for the area and then offer the area to such interests as seen most likely to be able to carry out the projected development in harmony with the program decided upon.

Mr. Gray purchased the area about ten years ago from J. S. Becker of Monterey, who homesteaded the tract about 1900.

Ruby Keeler says:
"Luckies are a light smoke that treat a tender throat right"

"In a way, it's easier to keep in condition as a dancer than as a singer. Exercise can keep the muscles in shape, but there are a lot of things that can go wrong with the voice and throat. It stands to reason, then, that any actress wants a cigarette that is gentle and strikes the right note with her throat. I started smoking Luckies 4 years ago. They're a light smoke that treat a tender throat right."

An independent survey was made recently among professional men and women—lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc. Of those who said they smoke cigarettes, more than 87% stated they personally prefer a light smoke.

Miss Keeler verifies the wisdom of this preference, and so do other leading artists of the radio, stage, screen and opera. Their voices are their fortunes. That's why so many of them smoke Luckies. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on the throat.

P-T.A. BACKS SCHOOLS WEEK

State President Gives Pledge Of Support From Congress

SAN FRANCISCO — Wholehearted support for the 18th annual observance of Public Schools Week, April 26, was pledged here today by Mrs. B. C. Clark, president of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers, representing over 200,000 members in 1672 local associations.

"California's belief in public education as a constructive force in the development of good citizenship has safeguarded the educational opportunities of children by a constitutional guarantee, which makes education the first business of the state," said the statement, issued to the public.

Mrs. Clark continued: "The California Congress of Parents and Teachers believes heartily in the American plan of public school education.

"We approve as heartily the annual observance of Public Schools Week, and the opportunity it offers for the lay public to visit schools and become familiar with the greatest of all American institutions.

"We also encourage the members of every one of the 1672 parent-teacher associations in the state to participate in interpreting their schools to the public.

"The house of the people," as the public school has been called, will be open the week of April 26 to the citizens of California, giving them an opportunity to observe the training of tomorrow's citizens and review the institution which they themselves have provided for the training of children and youth."

The California State Chamber of Commerce, in a recent statement, pledged co-operation in the activities of the week.

WPA Cuts Hold Fate Of Relief Budget

WASHINGTON (UP)—A $1,500,000,000 relief budget for the 1938 fiscal year depended today on President Roosevelt's decision whether 550,000 workers can be cut from WPA rolls by July 1 without causing want.

The first slight reductions in WPA Administrator Harry L. Hopkins' schedule to bring WPA rolls down to 1,600,000 by the beginning of the new fiscal year, July 1 have been virtually accomplished.

TUBERCULOSIS TEST STARTED

bers, one janitor and two cafeteria workers, from Placerville grammar school;

And 160 rural county school pupils and 20 teachers, and 20 others from a private school in the rural county. In addition, 14 persons outside the schools applied for tests.

Of the consent slips which were sent out by the high school, consent for the tests was denied in 63 instances. There were 25 who denied consent for tests for children of the city grammar school.

A quick wiping of the skin with alcohol to thoroughly sterilize it, the insertion of the needle between the layers of skin, the injection of a tiny drop of colorless liquid, tuberculin, and the test was over. Between each test the doctor sterilized the needle by holding it in a flame.

Asked if the test had caused any pain, one student said: "A mosquito would do more damage than that."

Dr. D. W. Babcock, one of the physicians giving the tests, in explaining what is expected from the first test said:

"The tuberculin test is given twice, in two strengths. The first test is weak and those who have received infection and are particularly sensitive to tuberculin will react to it. The second test is stronger and those who are infected but less sensitive will react to it. By giving the two tests all who are infected are found, but violent reactions of those particularly sensitive are avoided. There is no more likelihood that those reacting to the first test will have active disease than that those reacting to the second test will have it.

"We expect to find that about 20 per cent of the students will react to the first test and about 10 per cent to the second test. This has been the experience in other parts of the state where these tuberculin testing surveys have been made.

"When a student reacts to the test it does not mean that he has the disease in any form. It simply means that he has at some time in his life been infected with the germs and could possibly develop the disease. Only the X-ray can tell if disease is there, and, of course, probably only a few cases of early tuberculosis will be found among the students we are examining. It is to bring these students to medical attention early so that they may be sure of being quickly cured we are giving the tests.

"Those who do not react to both tests can be sure that they have no infection at the present time. However, should they now or later come in contact with someone with active disease they might receive infection and possibly develop the disease. The tuberculin test does not protect them; it only shows they are safe for the present. They should be examined again in future years, even as everyone should be examined, so that if infection is received it will be found at once."

BOLD CHECKS

Peter Russell developed his riding coat type of jacket in plain tweeds over check skirts, or vice versa. This one, in neutral color he calls honey beige, and it goes over a skirt in the same color checked by two shades of brown. Details include the double pocket on the right hip, the cutaway line below the single-button fastening, and the check tweed gloves. Under the jacket is a check tweed vest with silk sleeves and back.
